

GOLF

Wintergreen Resort is a golfer's haven. Devils Knob and Stoney Creek, are two courses with two completely different designs.

Devils Knob Golf Course (Wintergreen Members & resort guests only)

A Wintergreen Resort golf course with a mountain top location.

When Ellis Maples designed this 18 hole gem, the highest golf course in Virginia, his challenge was to enhance its stunning Blue Ridge Mountain setting. Sitting at an elevation of over 3,800 feet, players leave Devils Knob golf course remembering narrow fairways, excellent turf conditions and unsurpassed vistas. Typically 12-18 degrees cooler even than its sister golf course, Stoney Creek, Devils Knob provides Virginia's coolest playing conditions throughout the summer and the most dramatic mountain foliage backdrop throughout the fall. If you are searching for a true mountain golf challenge, Devils Knob golf course is a "must play."

Stoney Creek Golf Course

Golf year round in the Rockfish River valley on the 27 hole Rees Jones Design Stoney Creek Golf Course. With contoured greens and the occasional side hill lie, Jones brought the natural elements of the landscape into play: meandering streams, hardwood forests and pristine wetlands. When playing the course for the first time, one should be careful to not be distracted by the stunning scenery or wildlife it may cost them yet another par.

Winter golf in Virginia? It's true. Few other places on earth provide the opportunity to snow ski in the morning and play championship-caliber golf later in the day. Because of a dramatic 3,300 foot change in elevation, it happens at Wintergreen.
