Subject: Pipeline in Flood Plain

Good evening;

I'm sure I'm not pointing out anything you haven't already considered, but I hope you'll indulge my weighing in nonetheless.

Since the pipe will be buried, once buried and revegetated, it will have absolutely zero impact on any flood plain. E&S considerations during construction are addressed through other permits and agencies. I trust the Board will approach the question of this permit objectively and on its own merits, and not view it as some sort of referendum on the pipeline itself. I don't believe one's personal opinions regarding the pipeline per se should have any bearing on this vote.

Thanks for letting me weigh in,

Carlton Ballowe
